

Red Mahogany Decking

Eucalyptus resinifera

Red Mahogany is an attractive rich red coloured timber that displays an even grain interlocks throughout, making this a beautiful feature of the species.

Red Mahogany Decking ticks all the boxes:

- High Durability.
- Naturally Termite Resistant.
- Suitable to be used in BAL 19 bushfire areas.

Red Mahogany is an Australian hardwood grown on the North Coast of New South Wales and is prized for its high durability, incredible hardness and distinct deep rich colouring, making an ideal choice for your outdoor deck.

Red Mahogany accepts stains and finishes extremely well and is one of the best timbers for coating, since the wood has good resistance to surface checking.
